

Letter of Recommendation

To whom it may concern,

I've had the pleasure of working with Sukhpreet for a few months, and he is one of the most determined, hardest working and resourceful employees I have had to date. Whenever we hit a blocker, he would not rest until he found a solution. If he could not go through the brick wall, he would try to go around it; if he could not do that, he would try to jump over it; if he could not do that, he would dig a tunnel underneath it.

More than any skillset, this unwavering determination is what I value most in employees. I highly recommend Sukhpreet for any role where you need a reliable, dependable developer that is going to advance you towards your goal, one unwavering step at a time. I have no doubt Sukhpreet will go very far in his career and his life, so get this gem while you can!

My best regards,
